Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

1	It took a bit to understand and learn.	Apr 17, 2012 8:56 AM
2	I had to be taught how to use the system but after that I understood how to post assignment, see grades, and so on.	Apr 17, 2012 8:53 AM
3	I don't think it was as organized as well as blackboard was. The design was more aesthetically pleasing.	Apr 17, 2012 8:43 AM
4	Moodle was relatively easy to understand because of its similarity to Blackboard. Without previous experience, I probably would not have enjoyed using it as much.	Apr 17, 2012 1:46 AM
5	The idea was similar to Blackboard, so it was relatively easy to understand at a basic level. But, the messages feature was particularly challenging for me!	Apr 17, 2012 1:41 AM
6	I didn't mind moodle, but I also didn't mind blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 11:55 PM
7	It's pretty similar..	Apr 16, 2012 11:00 PM
8	I didn't understand how to use a lot of it	Apr 16, 2012 10:13 PM
9	i like it! much more modern and clear than blackboard	Apr 16, 2012 9:44 PM
10	It was very easy to get used to and work with.	Apr 16, 2012 9:38 PM
11	I did not like it!	Apr 16, 2012 8:57 PM
12	It is hard to read and navigate through. I prefer Blackboard	Apr 16, 2012 8:34 PM
13	I HATE MOODLE IT'S SO CONFUSING AND NOT INTUITIVE AT ALL. I CAN NEVER FIND ANYTHING. AND I HATE THAT IT'S TRYING TO BE LIKE A SOCIAL NETWORKING SITE. I DON'T WANT TO BE ABLE TO SEE WHO ELSE IS ONLINE OR FOR OTHER PEOPLE TO SEE THAT. I DON'T KNOW HOW TO USE ANY OF THE FEATURES OR SETTINGS EITHER. DON'T SWITCH TO MOODLE IT'S AWFUL!!!	Apr 16, 2012 8:29 PM
14	Its a good way to do class assignments, but its basically the same as blackboard for me, I don't see one being better than the other	Apr 16, 2012 8:10 PM
15	It was much easier to navigate than Blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 7:20 PM
16	Moodle doesn't have all of the same features as Blackboard, but I like the simplicity of the program. It really depends on how the professor decides to set up Moodle for the course. There is a lot of freedom.	Apr 16, 2012 7:12 PM
17	Moodle doesn't have all of the same features as Blackboard, but I like the simplicity of the program. It really depends on how the professor decides to set up Moodle for the course. There is a lot of freedom.	Apr 16, 2012 7:12 PM
18	nice	Apr 16, 2012 7:11 PM
19	It was okay to use, but not the best. The website isn't very user friendly and somewhat confusing. It doesn't seem better than just using blackboard because blackboard has all the tabs on the left hand side that make it easier to navigate.	Apr 16, 2012 4:19 PM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

Plus, I have one teacher that uses moodle and one that uses blackboard so I'm going to two different sites to get information on my classes

20	I prefer moodle over blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 4:19 PM
21	I really like the layout of moodle.	Apr 16, 2012 4:15 PM
22	Used it for one class an it was hard to navigate! I can imagine more than one class!	Apr 16, 2012 4:06 PM
23	I'm confused :/ also there needs to be a link on the homepage	Apr 16, 2012 4:03 PM
24	Very easy to navigate	Apr 16, 2012 3:58 PM
25	Reading articles, submitting assignments, rubrics, reflections	Apr 16, 2012 3:57 PM
26	I don't like going back and forth between moodle and blackboard for all of my different classes. Moodle has too many options and is confusing to navigate.	Apr 16, 2012 3:53 PM
27	I was a little confused about Moodle at the beginning nut I go the hang out it.	Apr 16, 2012 3:52 PM
28	I prefer Moodle over Blackboard. It is a lot more user friendly.	Apr 16, 2012 3:51 PM
29	I work in CAT, so I was trained in it.	Apr 16, 2012 3:47 PM
30	I thought Moodle was easy enough to use and navigate. We had far less problems with Moodle than I have had with Blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 1:37 PM
31	I think that Moodle is simple and easy to use and is a service that organizes classes well and the assignments that are part of them.	Apr 16, 2012 12:54 PM
32	The format of the website is confusing. Courses and assignments are difficult to find.	Apr 16, 2012 12:34 PM
33	It was different when first using it but as time went by it got easier to use.	Apr 16, 2012 12:04 PM
34	I do not think that we need another website to use besides Blackboard. Everything on Moodle can be done on Blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 12:04 PM
35	I do not understand how to use Moodle, nor do I even know how to get to Moodle I have to go to the one email I received from my professor to even get there let alone to figure out how to navigate the page.	Apr 16, 2012 12:00 PM
36	It was alright. It seemed to work the same as Blackboard, but I didn't like that I couldn't see my grades as easily.	Apr 16, 2012 11:41 AM
37	don't like it	Apr 16, 2012 11:15 AM
38	Haven't used Moodle.	Apr 16, 2012 10:33 AM
39	I really enjoyed using Moodle	Apr 16, 2012 10:27 AM
40	too much, was confusing liked the notifications for messages though!	Apr 16, 2012 10:20 AM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

41	I like blackboard better	Apr 16, 2012 10:10 AM
42	I prefer blackboard	Apr 16, 2012 10:09 AM
43	It was easy to navigate the class and I especially liked joule social, it was very convenient to turn in certain assignments.	Apr 16, 2012 10:07 AM
44	Blackboard is easier to navigate, but maybe because we are all used to blackboard.	Apr 16, 2012 9:51 AM
45	Easy to use and navigate	Apr 16, 2012 8:32 AM
46	I had no problem with Moodle, however, it was only used in one course and I only had to use it to download notes and scheduals. I did not use any of the other features and cannot comment on any of those.	Apr 16, 2012 8:11 AM
47	Haven't used it.	Apr 16, 2012 12:22 AM
48	Better than blackboard	Apr 15, 2012 11:36 PM
49	Too many links/offshoot sites used at Butler	Apr 15, 2012 10:50 PM
50	It was hard to get used to at first, but overall its great to have everything in one place.	Apr 15, 2012 9:15 PM
51	Moodle is easy enough to navigate, but in my personal experiences, there were times when I was unable to get things to open, or they would be available to some of my classmates, but for some reason Moodle would not let me open them.	Apr 15, 2012 8:29 PM
52	I	Apr 15, 2012 8:14 PM
53	i dont like using moodle. i prefer blackboard. most of my classes were on blackboard so it was annoying having to go to moodle for one class	Apr 15, 2012 8:07 PM
54	I didn't use it besides to download reading for my course. That was fine, I just don't think I know much about everything its capable of	Apr 15, 2012 7:56 PM
55	I liked moodle, it was hard to navigate at first because I was so used to Blackboard	Apr 15, 2012 7:50 PM
56	It's easy to use. I used Moodle in high school, so I already had some experience with it. Overall I'm pretty pleased with it.	Apr 15, 2012 7:43 PM
57	It has potential but it's really confusing at first and definitely not user friendly.	Apr 15, 2012 7:20 PM
58	It seemed less direct than blackboard in that it is necessary to navigate through multiple links in order to find what you want.	Apr 15, 2012 6:37 PM
59	It has not been used for any of my college classes.	Apr 15, 2012 4:16 PM
60	It's simple, and I like that.	Apr 15, 2012 3:53 PM
61	Confusing and didn't use it very much. It was never explained	Apr 15, 2012 3:11 PM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

62	I used it for my ancient epic class and although i had no problems with it, i liked blackboard better	Apr 15, 2012 1:16 PM
63	I do not think we had enough instructions with the new program so it was not easy to find everything. I think it would be best to have all the classes on one website too, like Blackboard!	Apr 15, 2012 1:14 PM
64	It has been easy and helpful	Apr 15, 2012 12:13 PM
65	I like using Moodle. It is just sometimes hard to find where your grades are listed.	Apr 15, 2012 11:01 AM
66	It was nice to be able to see my grades before she handed assignments and tests back in class.	Apr 15, 2012 10:25 AM
67	I have no idea what moodle is.	Apr 15, 2012 12:08 AM
68	I like Blackboard way better!	Apr 14, 2012 8:09 PM
69	Not easy to navigate	Apr 14, 2012 4:43 PM
70	I only used Moodle for one of my classes this semester. The navigation pages are less "busy" than Blackboard, but other than that I can't say that I prefer one over the other.	Apr 14, 2012 4:20 PM
71	Moodle is obnoxious. It is incredibly hard to use, and there is no purpose in switching from blackboard. Blackboard works, and its easy to navigate as well as fine what you need. Moodle has chat rooms, messages, ECT. It's too busy, and attempts to do more than it is asked. Leave Blackboard alone	Apr 14, 2012 3:48 PM
72	Moodle is ok but i'm so used to blackboard	Apr 14, 2012 3:11 PM
73	I used it to download power points and see my grades. I had no problems with the site and it's layout.	Apr 14, 2012 1:39 PM
74	It is sooooo frustrating!!! Why can't we just use Blackboard which is soooo much easier! I don't want to have profiles or have friends or a school facebook type of thing. The messages are annoying. I have a butler email and blackboard. I do not need Moodle, too which is just too complicated and very disorganized.	Apr 14, 2012 1:35 PM
75	I enjoyed the pictures which could be posted with each lecture set on Moodle.	Apr 14, 2012 1:08 PM
76	Moodle is very similar to Blackboard, but I think Moodle has more to offer.	Apr 14, 2012 12:29 PM
77	It was very easy to use.	Apr 14, 2012 11:22 AM
78	I used moodle to get notes for class and it was comparable with blackboard.	Apr 14, 2012 9:53 AM
79	Honestly, one of the worst and most confusing experiences I have had. Out of my 18 credit hours, my only course on Moodle was CH352- which, as most could agree, is a very intense course which needs a lot of outside work. Half the time Moodle never worked for me, and the other half, I wish it didn't because I still couldn't figure out how to navigate through it. Total waste of time- please for the sake of my sanity go back to using Blackboard- just as majority of other professors do. I had no idea how to find anything, and nothing would open for	Apr 14, 2012 2:12 AM me if I could find it. I usually had a girl from my class just send me information I was looking for.

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

80	I don't think using Moodle is necessary when we have blackboard. I would rather just have everything in one place.	Apr 13, 2012 11:35 PM
81	Not only was it frustrating using different interfaces among courses, but Moodle was incredibly difficult to utilize. Things were hard to find by the very nature of the interface, and its only arrangement is seemingly disorganization. I strongly recommend continued use of BlackBoard.	Apr 13, 2012 11:17 PM
82	Using Moodle was not difficult. I wouldn't mind using Moodle for all of my classes. Blackboard isn't very user friendly. However, Moodle can get pretty slow sometimes.	Apr 13, 2012 9:46 PM
83	It's difficult to find some things.	Apr 13, 2012 9:15 PM
84	It was hard to get used to at first and obnoxious because it was another site we had to go to for our courses, but I did like the set up of the sections and the picture that went along with the units making them easy to distinguish.	Apr 13, 2012 8:34 PM
85	It was too confusing & was never explained to us. I preferred Blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 8:29 PM
86	Our class never really used Moodle.	Apr 13, 2012 8:25 PM
87	I like it but, I want all classes to use it. It is hard to have blackboard and moodle	Apr 13, 2012 6:58 PM
88	Ok experience...kind of disorganized	Apr 13, 2012 6:43 PM
89	Blackboard is better	Apr 13, 2012 6:24 PM
90	It is easy to use but I am already used to blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 5:49 PM
91	I liked moodle because it allowed me to view assignments and notes easily	Apr 13, 2012 5:43 PM
92	Much better than Blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 5:16 PM
93	no comment	Apr 13, 2012 4:22 PM
94	I really enjoy all the resources moodle provides.	Apr 13, 2012 4:22 PM
95	It was much easier to use than blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 3:46 PM
96	I didn't really understand the purpose. It seemed like everything would have been more efficient had it just been on blackboard. Also, it is harder to track grades and progress in classes using Moodle. It is more convenient just having all the classes on one program, like blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 3:31 PM
97	I have had a great experience with Moodle, except for grades. All my teachers have been having trouble correctly entering grades and sometimes it is detrimental to the student's overall grades. I don't know if that is Moodle's fault or simply the teachers don't understand how to correctly enter grades.	Apr 13, 2012 3:20 PM
98	I only used one class in Moodle this year and it was difficult to navigate at time; I	Apr 13, 2012 2:40 PM am worried how it would be with 4 - 6 classes on Moodle. But, I do like how I can upload assignments on it. Overall, it is overwhelming with functions and does not seem easy to figure out. Will take students time.

99	It was easy to operate, however, annoying to have to go back and forth between blackboard and moodle.	Apr 13, 2012 2:34 PM
100	I find it difficult to use and you have to click many things just to get where you are trying to go. I think if I used Moodle more I would be more comfortable with it but I see no reason why Blackboard should no longer be used.	Apr 13, 2012 2:34 PM
101	It took me awhile to find everything, especially grades. I do not like how it does not calculate the total course grade. Also, I do not like how the messages don't go away and I am still not completely confident with it, but the idea is good. I think it will work.	Apr 13, 2012 2:28 PM
102	A little confusing but I eventually was able to figure out how to navigate. I prefer BlackBoard over Moodle.	Apr 13, 2012 2:06 PM
103	I do not feel that it was anything special. From a student perspective, it basically gives the same options as Blackboard. I had a few problems in the beginning with seeing all of the content my teacher had posted, but those were easily resolved.	Apr 13, 2012 1:43 PM
104	Our professor used Moodle to post homework assignments and answer keys and things of that nature for our course. It was overall fairly easy to use and figure out, but I wouldn't say that I am very comfortable with Moodle as a whole. I have not had enough experience with it to know about all of the features involved.	Apr 13, 2012 1:41 PM
105	It's not that I'm not satisfied with Moodle, it just either needs to replace Blackboard, or be out of the system because it is very much a hassle when only one class used it this year.	Apr 13, 2012 1:38 PM
106	I think it is great for professors that would actually use the site and organize coursework on the site, however many of my professors do not even use Blackboard so switching to a different system will just complicate things more and both professors and students would need to learn moodle even though everyone is comfortable with Blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 1:33 PM
107	Had difficulty navigating Moodle	Apr 13, 2012 1:16 PM
108	I found it hard to open some documents and did not like the organization.	Apr 13, 2012 1:14 PM
109	It was alright. The class didn't use it very much but for what it did use it for, it did well.	Apr 13, 2012 1:10 PM
110	I enjoyed using moodle much more than I did Blackboard. Everything is much easier to find and the site itsel is much easier to navigate.	Apr 13, 2012 1:06 PM
111	It's very convenient to be able to see my grades for specific classes on Moodle.	Apr 13, 2012 1:05 PM
112	It was very easy to use	Apr 13, 2012 1:03 PM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

113	Its fine	Apr 13, 2012 1:02 PM
114	N/a	Apr 13, 2012 12:59 PM
115	It is confusing and hard to navigate	Apr 13, 2012 12:44 PM
116	Very nice from student perspective	Apr 13, 2012 12:38 PM
117	I only used it for one class, but all my classes were listed. This is very confusing and I would really appreciate it if we only had to use either blackboard or Moodle not both.	Apr 13, 2012 12:33 PM
118	It's too hard to use. It requires too Much clicking. It's really hard to find things	Apr 13, 2012 12:24 PM
119	It was a lot easier to use for looking up assignments and finding the papers the professor put on. It was very straightforward.	Apr 13, 2012 12:13 PM
120	I don't really understand why Moodle is used for this class. All of my other professors use Blackboard, so it's a little inconvenient to have to use Moodle, too. They are basically the same thing. I think at this point, I prefer Blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 12:09 PM
121	We already have blackboard. That's confusing enough. It takes a while to navigate through the different pages to find what you're looking for. It's pretty unnecessary.	Apr 13, 2012 12:09 PM
122	I have not tried it, it looks confusing	Apr 13, 2012 12:02 PM
123	Didn't like it	Apr 13, 2012 12:02 PM
124	Moodle was easy to use but I would not like doing assignments with Moodle.	Apr 13, 2012 12:02 PM
125	A little difficult to navigate at first, but after I discovered what I needed to do it was useful	Apr 13, 2012 12:00 PM
126	Finding links was sometimes very confusing	Apr 13, 2012 11:58 AM
127	Blackboard is much easier to navigate.	Apr 13, 2012 11:54 AM
128	Takes longer to load than blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 11:54 AM
129	All of our readings were posted on Moodle and we had to turn in assignments on there as well. SO much easier than Blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 11:52 AM
130	Much better than blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 11:46 AM
131	Easy to use, convenient	Apr 13, 2012 11:45 AM
132	a bit hard to navigate	Apr 13, 2012 11:38 AM
133	It was laid out ok but seemed awfully cluttered.	Apr 13, 2012 11:37 AM
134	It was easy access to documents that teaches uploaded, and also easy to check grades.	Apr 13, 2012 11:18 AM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

135	Moodle has great features but is difficult to navigate.	Apr 13, 2012 11:18 AM
136	My professor organized the folders well so I really liked it, if my other professors had moodle just as organized I think I would have liked it more	Apr 13, 2012 11:18 AM
137	Moodle is fine. I really don't have any difference of opinion between moodle and blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 11:17 AM
138	Moodle has great features, but the organization is very poor with regard to assignments within courses and announcements.	Apr 13, 2012 11:17 AM
139	Good	Apr 13, 2012 11:12 AM
140	I like it but prefer blackboard. I think Blackboard is even easier to navigate	Apr 13, 2012 11:10 AM
141	With some of my classes using moodle and others still using blackboard, it felt like more of a hassle, but if every class used one or the other, there would be no issue.	Apr 13, 2012 11:10 AM
142	We used it for the answers to hw problems and grades. It was was the same as black board in my opinion	Apr 13, 2012 11:08 AM
143	Noodle is not intuitive I use and it is hard to navigate, especially trying to find older powerpoints or notes.	Apr 13, 2012 11:07 AM
144	Just different when you are used to blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 11:06 AM
145	moodle is pretty cool. would like to see it in other classes	Apr 13, 2012 11:05 AM
146	I think I would have liked Moodle more if I had an introduction lesson on how to use it, where to look for certain things, and how to better navigate it.	Apr 13, 2012 11:05 AM
147	coming from blackboard it was somewhat weird and difficult to figure out. But I think that may be that most professors didn't always organize it very well. Overall since I've figured it out I like it	Apr 13, 2012 11:05 AM
148	straight forward; only used it for one class but was easy to use	Apr 13, 2012 11:04 AM
149	Normal	Apr 13, 2012 10:53 AM
150	Moodle is too difficult to navigate. I'd like to see my classes laid out in a more logical order, as well as the subjects within a class easier to find.	Apr 13, 2012 10:51 AM
151	In my experience with Moodle, it is hard to follow at times, especially with the toolbar on the right. That toolbar has so many things it is hard to find exactly what you're looking for.	Apr 13, 2012 10:36 AM
152	I like how the course is laid out with the syllabus and assignments coordinating together. It seems more organized and has less focus on tabs on the left than blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 10:34 AM
153	Moodle sometimes is hard to go back to the page before.	Apr 13, 2012 10:33 AM
154	Moodle is certainly an easy tool to use when you know specifically what you are	Apr 13, 2012 10:30 AM looking for. When first venturing to the sight, the sidebar navigation was overwhelming due to the seemingly unorganized chaos of course lists and subsets. Other than this initial problem, Moodle provides and easy to follow timeline of what is due at each point in the course.

155	there have been problems like finding grades, I hate the way you have to go in and pick your classes. Navigating is worse with moodle then with blackboard. when the page up loads the cursor does not immediately go to username you have to click the box and then type unlike blackboard. you apparently can't enter grades with .25 or 7.25 and up load assignments with them. It takes longer than blackboard to load sometimes. Right now with blackboard you can have groups and organizations and I don't know if moodle allows for this so I wouldn't want to lose that	Apr 13, 2012 10:27 AM
156	I think it has more to offer than blackboard	Apr 13, 2012 9:56 AM
157	Simple and straight forward. Professor had everything set up already for us, so it seemed as if she had it all prepared for us which made the use of moodle much easier. Had she not done that already I am not sure how well it would have all gone. Overall, great experience!	Apr 13, 2012 9:43 AM
158	I don't mind using Moodle, I prefer Blackboard but maybe that's just me being set in my ways!	Apr 13, 2012 9:36 AM
159	I had a bit of difficulty navigating Moodle at first, but I eventually got the hang of it.	Apr 8, 2012 11:13 PM
160	I just didn't like it. It wasn't a confusing system, I just didn't feel comfortable using it.	Apr 8, 2012 10:37 PM
161	Moodle sometimes took a while for material to download. I prefer blackboard	Apr 8, 2012 10:13 PM
162	I do not like Moodle as much as blackboard. Blackboard has its cons, but Moodle is not better and often hard to navigate.	Apr 8, 2012 8:40 PM
163	It is very organized and easy to use	Apr 8, 2012 7:46 PM
164	It was an easy accessible internet website for the class and would not mind seeing it be used for my future classes seeing that blackboard is commonly only utilized for grade updates, as moodle is a nice way of having everything in one location	Apr 8, 2012 5:03 PM
165	I felt the site was easy to navigate, however in my class we didn't really explore what all Moodle could do.	Apr 8, 2012 4:05 PM
166	It is much better than Blackboard, but it still isn't set up perfectly. There are too many levels.	Apr 8, 2012 11:37 AM
167	No comment. Hard to navigate at times.	Apr 8, 2012 11:01 AM
168	I find the navigation of courses -extremely- hard to use. The side bars are squished and tend to be accessed at the bottom of the page and they're not clearly marked as navigation points (just text links with no boxes or anything). Moodle is faster than Blackboard and better-looking. I like the profile and	Apr 8, 2012 9:29 AM messaging features because class questions can be sent to a professor and not get lost in his/her email. If the navigation was easier to use (I had to spend 20 minutes figuring out where things were the first time I used it), I would definitely prefer Moodle over Blackboard.

169	I believe it's unnecessary	Apr 8, 2012 12:51 AM
170	It was confusing at first, but it was easy once I got the hang of it.	Apr 7, 2012 10:10 PM
171	I did not like having to only use moodle for one of my classes. it was annoying going back and forth form blackboard to moodle. i think it should be one or the other	Apr 7, 2012 3:08 PM
172	Very difficult to find assignment turn ins at times which can be very frustrating.	Apr 7, 2012 12:32 PM
173	Easy to use, but I'm not sure how I feel about how my particular class was organized, but that could be more of the teacher rather than Moodle.	Apr 6, 2012 11:51 PM
174	I believe it is a good tool a little difficult at first but very straight forward.	Apr 6, 2012 8:20 PM
175	It's very easy to use and has many resources in one location.	Apr 6, 2012 7:13 PM
176	none	Apr 6, 2012 5:30 PM
177	It worked fine whenever I had to download material off of the website, but I am confused on other parts of it.	Apr 6, 2012 4:04 PM
178	I don't like it. Just stick to blackboard.	Apr 6, 2012 3:14 PM
179	I like it, more potential than blackboard	Apr 6, 2012 2:57 PM
180	It was pretty easy to use. Just annoying because only one of my classes used moodle, the rest use blackboard.	Apr 6, 2012 2:40 PM
181	For reading assignments you could only see a small portion of the paper or assignment you were reading. Also setting up the system was also a little complicated at first. The concept is nice but the flow of blackboard is also very easy to navigate throughout.	Apr 6, 2012 1:46 PM
182	Didn't have extensive use of it besides downloading and printing off documents. Found it to be not that different.	Apr 6, 2012 1:36 PM
183	There are too many drop down menus	Apr 6, 2012 1:32 PM
184	Moodle seems to be comparable to Blackboard in many respects. The organization of Moodle was not ideal, with better organization I feel Moodle will be a great course management system.	Apr 6, 2012 1:32 PM
185	How is it better then Black Board?	Apr 6, 2012 1:30 PM
186	Hard to figure out and locate things. Only one class used it and it was a pain to figure out how to use a whole site.	Apr 6, 2012 1:04 PM teacher use it and it was exceptionally inconvenient. While I do not believe that Blackboard is the best Learning Management System, I wholeheartedly believe that it is better than Moodle.

188	I prefer blackboard, but moodle is okay too	Apr 6, 2012 11:36 AM
189	The website was not well organized. It was difficult to go from one section/class/chapter to another. We had a difficult time with the notifications for grades. Overall, Moodle was not very convenient.	Apr 6, 2012 11:11 AM
190	it is not user friendly and extremely hard to get used to. i've been using it the entire semester and still have problems finding assignments that professors have posted.	Apr 6, 2012 11:05 AM
191	Hard to get used to. Too many places to hide things and get lost. I had to go to IT just to find where my grades were because some small tab was closed. Like how all the chapters were separated and easy to submit my homework. If its cheaper for butler I say why not use it. Its not terrible	Apr 6, 2012 10:59 AM
192	I think that the way different subjects are organized on Moodle is confusing and inconvenient. I	Apr 6, 2012 10:56 AM
193	I do not like the organization of Moodle. I prefer the folder set-up in Blackboard. Also my teacher had to selectively display material because everything just shows up at once in blocks. I think Moodle only works for certain classes.	Apr 6, 2012 10:19 AM
194	The system has been fine and seems to offer more but the grade book doesn't allow fraction of points to be entered or extra credit points.	Apr 6, 2012 9:59 AM
195	It's been okay using it. I like Blackboard better though.	Apr 6, 2012 9:55 AM
196	I had very little difficulty utilizing Moodle. The set-up was easy to follow, and I could easily complete and check on my assignments. I would not mind using this system again.	Apr 6, 2012 9:45 AM
197	It can be hard to find exactly what you're looking for and takes a lot of searching to find it. Blackboard is easier to navigate and less cluttered.	Apr 6, 2012 9:19 AM
198	I like Moodle and it is visually appealing. It is fairly easy to use and is straight forward.	Apr 6, 2012 9:08 AM
199	I feel like Moodle is slower than blackboard	Apr 6, 2012 9:04 AM
200	Did not like the layout and some pages were not easy to find.	Apr 6, 2012 9:02 AM
201	It worked good but I like blackboard better.	Apr 6, 2012 8:22 AM
202	Felt like it wasn't well organized and didn't like the overall way it looked	Apr 6, 2012 1:19 AM
203	We did not have to interact on Moodle, so I cannot comment on submitting assignments or working within Moodle. Our professor simply posted the readings for each week and they were organized by week, which was very helpful. The site was easy to navigate. We did not use any gradebook functions or the social program.	Apr 5, 2012 11:49 PM

207	It's fine. I'm confused on how you see your grades though. I liked Blackboard better overall.	Apr 5, 2012 9:49 PM
208	Moodle was a very quick and easy learn. I enjoyed being able to use Moodle in this class.	Apr 5, 2012 9:48 PM
209	In my art class, all we're doing is looking at the calendar. In other classes where it's used, it is very confusing to navigate the discussion boards and the messages, and it is very difficult to figure out what I'm looking at.	Apr 5, 2012 9:35 PM

215	just another average "blackboard" type of site	Apr 5, 2012 7:39 PM
216	I wish all my courses used the same layout and it was easier to see my classes when I first log on to moodle. Overall I think moodle is okay.	Apr 5, 2012 7:39 PM

a necessity. I'm actually starting to appreciate blackboard.

225	Just used it to print out assignments	Apr 5, 2012 1:55 PM
226	I honestly don't like using either Moodle or Blackboard, but I prefer Blackboard by far	Apr 5, 2012 1:36 PM
227	I used Moodle in high school and really enjoyed it and I think it is a great tool for professors and students to engage in.	Apr 5, 2012 1:19 PM
228	Blackboard works much better, I have NEVER had issues with it so why fix something that is not broken? My teacher who uses Moodle does not like it, and I have not talked to ONE student who likes Moodle more than Bb. It is THAT simple. Switch to Moodle, and you will have angry students and teachers. Good evening.	Apr 3, 2012 7:18 PM
229	fine	Apr 3, 2012 12:36 PM
230	None of the links on the side panel work which makes it very difficult to travel the site.	Apr 3, 2012 10:15 AM
231	So much more difficult than Blackboard. Our grades are always incorrect. It takes much longer to get to assignments. Moodle is not worth the switch.	Mar 31, 2012 4:00 PM
232	Before using Moodle, I had only used Blackboard and thought it was okay. It had its problems, but it got the job done. I absolutely hate Moodle. It is slow, sometimes crashes, is confusing to navigate, and I would be disappointed to see it used next year. I have absolutely nothing good to say about Moodle. After using Moodle for just one class this semester, I don't think I will ever complain about Blackboard ever again.	Mar 31, 2012 2:57 PM
233	I used Moodle in High School and I knew how to use that version of it. The one that we are using now is a little more complicated, but I think its because I was used to the other version and then also I was use to blackboard. Overall, I think that if we went from Blackboard to Moodle I would not mind.	Mar 30, 2012 2:37 PM
234	Good program. Navigation to similar pages needs to be grouped better.	Mar 30, 2012 10:51 AM
235	Moodle is not very user-friendly in my opinion: links on the side menu often do not work, leading users to find round-about ways to reach the pages they want. Settings are also a bit more difficult to control. Basically, it's organizational setup does not seem to be very logical as compared to other LMS's.	Mar 30, 2012 10:42 AM
236	I don't understand why would couldn't just use blackboard. Moodle was more complicated, had too many problems, and was hard to operate.	Mar 30, 2012 6:29 AM
237	i like it more than blackboard	Mar 29, 2012 11:44 PM
238	It has been slow and difficult to get around. I wish to never use it again. Blackboard has been very reliable and I don't want to shift to this confusing program.	Mar 29, 2012 4:46 PM
239	When we would log on before class, it would become overloaded and take forever to log on. It was difficult to navigate. I feel like Blackboard is easier.	Mar 29, 2012 4:25 PM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

240	Unnecessary to throw in another type of website when we all have blackboard. Either only use Blackboard or only use Moodle. It was so stressful having some classes on Moodle and some on Blackboard. With A LOT of tweaks Moodle would be beneficial. I liked that it warned you when assignments were do but that was it.	Mar 29, 2012 2:35 PM
241	I thought using moodle in just one of my classes was very difficult compared to using blackboard. pages and assignments were close to impossible to find on moodle because the site is so unorganized. also, slides that were posted on moodle half the time could not be opened or printed so it made taking notes very difficult.	Mar 29, 2012 2:32 PM
242	I thought it was very confusing and difficult to work with.	Mar 29, 2012 2:12 PM
243	I had trouble opening every powerpoint that was posted to moodle. The gradebook was fairly straight forward and easy to find. I liked that I got emails about messages the instructor sent through moodle. I did not use the calendar very much. Overall, I would rather use Blackboard because I find it easier to use.	Mar 29, 2012 2:01 PM
244	Moodle is confusing. The professor has to split up grades that are over 100 into two grades because apparently he cant enter grades over 100 into the system. Also we have extra credit in the class and moodle keeps saying that its just 10 out of 10 instead of 10 out of 0 and the professor keeps trying to fix it. I get emails stating that my grade keeps changing to a D or F when the professor adds in a new assignment to the grade book. Using moodle frustrates me and the grade book is always off so I never know my actual grade in the course.	Mar 29, 2012 1:58 PM
245	It was not user friendly, nor did it work well with panopto. Blackboard is simpler and more straightforward. I can't wait to see Bb 9.1	Mar 29, 2012 1:35 PM
246	I like Blackboard so much better. Moodle was hard to use and hard to keep track of just for one class, if I had it for all of them I would be very disappointed in Butler.	Mar 29, 2012 1:04 PM
247	I had trouble acclimating to the program...I feel much more comfortable with blackboard.	Mar 29, 2012 1:00 PM
248	I've used it in high school and its still relatively easy.	Mar 29, 2012 12:58 PM
249	Moodle takes a very long time to load. It also sent out either tons of messages or not enough. I changed my settings multiple times. It is frustrating to see multiple announcements saying that your grade has been changed to an "F." This problem was not fixed even after they said it was. The navigation of the program was also very difficult - forcing you to go back to home multiple times in order to get anything accomplished.	Mar 29, 2012 12:32 PM
250	Moodle is the biggest load of garbage I've ever witnessed.	Mar 29, 2012 12:30 PM
251	Moodle is very slow, very confusing, and not helpful in the least. Blackboard is by far superior. Blackboard is like Facebook while Moodle is like Google Plus.....it just can't add up.	Mar 29, 2012 12:20 PM
252	Moodle is a huge inconvenience for our class, as it does nothing but cause	Mar 29, 2012 12:15 PM unnecessary problems that Blackboard does not have. It is unfortunate that we have to go to two different websites instead of access all our material on one.

253	I really dislike Moodle, it can be very confusing. It has way too much going on or too many links on the home page to know where to go. Our class seemed to have a lot of trouble with posting grades on it. It also had a problem with being really slow when the class tried to log into it, which I have never had a similar problem with Blackboard. I greatly prefer using Blackboard for all of my courses than Moodle, it is just easier to understand and seems to be more organized than Moodle. I was very dissatisfied with Moodle and I hope that I will never have to use it again. I should also mention that I consider myself a tech-savvy individual and can pretty much figure out programs after a while, but I just really hated Moodle and it had nothing to do with not understanding the program; I just disliked how it was organized.	Mar 29, 2012 12:11 PM
254	It always seems to be malfunctioning. I saw no benefit of it over just using Blackboard.	Mar 29, 2012 12:11 PM
255	It required us to download a new browser and you can only open documents from that browser so it's just more of a hassle.	Mar 29, 2012 12:07 PM
256	It was very difficult to navigate the menus and Moodle had not received an upload I had submitted to it.	Mar 29, 2012 12:02 PM
257	Moodle is very cumbersome and not as easy to use as Blackboard. There are so many additional features (chat, message boards) that are unnecessary and that the teacher doesn't know how to use. Also we weren't able to complete small quizzes online as we can with Blackboard. The instructor had to PRINT OFF the quiz and we took it on paper which is not very efficient or ecologically friendly. It was not unheard of for Moodle to send 5-8 emails a day when grades were being changed. The instructor attempted to correct this problem but it still occurred sending emails saying "X person changed your course grade to an F" (the gradebook compared your grade to the total points that would be assigned in the class so we had F's until the last few weeks of class when all the assignments were completed.) I REALLY hope that future classes DO NOT use this program!	Mar 29, 2012 12:01 PM
258	It was hard to get going and the fact of having two Blackboards essentially was very confusing on where to find materials.	Mar 29, 2012 12:01 PM
259	I don't like MOODLE. It is difficult to navigate.	Mar 29, 2012 12:01 PM
260	Moodle is better than Blackboard, hands down	Mar 29, 2012 10:40 AM opinion because the professors were new to it as well, which made it more confusing.

265	It is easy to use and i like it better then blackboard.	Mar 28, 2012 4:51 PM
266	I use it for one of my classes and it doesn't ever work properly.	Mar 28, 2012 3:58 PM
267	There was a lot of information on one page, but, after I got used to it, the site was relatively easy to understand and navigate.	Mar 28, 2012 3:57 PM
268	I can never figure it out, and the tutorials dont help	Mar 27, 2012 8:24 PM
269	I am able to use it, however, the first few weeks of second semester were a little difficult due to the changes made to moodle.	Mar 27, 2012 2:39 PM
270	On Moodle everything seems very organized and detailed. I think it is nice that teachers can post articles, assignments, and deadlines all on one place. It makes everything simple because everything needed for class is on Moodle.	Mar 27, 2012 1:51 PM
271	I think Moodle has potential, but I think that the set-up was fairly unorganized and it was more difficult to find the necessary things.	Mar 27, 2012 11:21 AM
272	Moodle is used daily in my corse and I am glad all the bugs are finally fixed. I wish the whole univeresity would either choose moodle or blackboard though.	Mar 27, 2012 11:05 AM
273	I do not like it at all and from talking to my classmates in the particular class we use it for neither do they. I have yet to find anyone who actually likes it!	Mar 27, 2012 10:12 AM
274	I program was simple and easy to pick up. I liked the fact that it seemed uncomplicated.	Mar 26, 2012 6:39 PM
275	I had used Moodle in high school and disliked it then too. I know that people complain about Blackboard, but when it's all said and done, that's what the students are used to.	Mar 26, 2012 5:33 PM
276	I am familiar with Blackboard so I have little opinion about changing to Moodle. I believe that a new user would have an easier time navigating Moodle as opposed to Blackboard. It is much simpler and straightforward.	Mar 26, 2012 2:15 PM
277	It is so easy to use!	Mar 26, 2012 12:51 PM
278	It wasn't hard to necessarily use but it was different and I think Blackboard is more useful for college students.	Mar 26, 2012 12:40 PM
279	I think that Blackboard is much easier and straightforward to use than Moodle. Moodle does not have each course listed on your home page so you have to click on which school the class is in such as "LAS" and then choose it from there, whereas on Blackboard there is a straightforward list of your courses right there on your home page (I don't like any added steps when it can be simpler) I also had trouble with the messages on moodle, I could see the little notifications that I had new messages but had trouble actually finding where to read them (whereas on Blackboard it's much easier in my opinion because everything is neatly organized in a list on the left-hand side.) Overall I didn't like moodle at all and prefer Blackboard much more.	Mar 26, 2012 11:52 AM

Q6. Please comment briefly on your experience with Moodle.

280	Moodle is fairly easy to use, but not all of my professors use it, so I must check both Moodle and Blackboard daily in order to keep up because not everyone has switched over to the use of Moodle, while I understand this is merely a pilot.	Mar 26, 2012 11:46 AM
281	Not as straightforward as BlackBoard. Things are harder to find, blogging is more difficult, grades aren't easily accessible, and messages from professors are easily lost in the mix and confusion.	Mar 25, 2012 11:33 PM
282	I think blackboard is better	Mar 25, 2012 10:55 PM
283	In my class it is the main source of turning in assignments and accessing assignments. I found it to be a bit confusing and I did not know how to use the site very well.	Mar 25, 2012 10:46 PM
284	I have enjoyed using moodle. It is easy to use most of the time.	Mar 25, 2012 10:45 PM
285	I just think moodle is difficult to deal with. I also used it in high school a lot and never liked it. I have had more problems with moodle about not finding something on there and I think Blackboard is more organized.	Mar 25, 2012 10:09 PM
286	It has alot of glitches, especially for people with Dell computers. It's very frustrating.	Mar 25, 2012 10:06 PM
287	Too many off-shoot cites.	Mar 25, 2012 9:54 PM
288	I hate using both moodle and blackboard. Seriously just pick one or the other.	Mar 25, 2012 9:52 PM
289	Moodle is more confusing than Blackboard. Finding the blog page is difficult to find and operate.	Mar 25, 2012 9:26 PM
290	I have used blackboard for 5 years now, so I am just used to it and like it for that reason. Moodle is not bad, its just different.	Mar 25, 2012 9:21 PM
291	It is very cluttered and confusing. I also have a hard time figuring out when I have assignments due. I think a layout like Blackboard would be better.	Mar 25, 2012 9:19 PM
292	Hard to navigate. Disorganized.	Mar 25, 2012 9:18 PM
293	It is very unorganized and is very hard to learn how to use. Even after workshops many in my class still couldn't find assignments and readings on the site.	Mar 25, 2012 9:16 PM

Q7. Additional Comments

1	Will I have access to courses from previous semesters to look at posted articles, and assignments?	Apr 17, 2012 8:56 AM
2	The Joule aspect is super lame and should just be hidden from Butler Moodle users because it only adds confusion. Also, messages sent from professors through Moodle: I wish they would also be sent to our email. I don't check Moodle as often as I check my Butler email.	Apr 16, 2012 7:12 PM

4	I would like to use moodle for all my classes.	Apr 16, 2012 4:15 PM
5	Why are we even testing this, what is wrong with Blackboard?	Apr 16, 2012 4:06 PM
6	blackboard's better	Apr 16, 2012 11:15 AM
7	PLEASE DON'T MAKE US USE MOODLE FOR EVERY CLASS!!!!!!!!	Apr 14, 2012 1:35 PM
8	Is there a LMS that allows the students to choose what is on the home page when they log in? Rather than going through all the steps of selecting the college, then selecting the class, etc., it would be nice if I could personal the home page.	Apr 13, 2012 1:43 PM
9	We only should use one system, whether it is Blackboard or Moodle. It is very irritating to have to go on both sites to check assignments, turn in assignments, print things, etc.	Apr 13, 2012 1:33 PM
10	I prefer blackboard.	Apr 13, 2012 1:14 PM
11	The organization is lacking, the layouts are confusing.	Apr 13, 2012 11:18 AM
12	Navigating through the website is very confusing with constantly changing layouts.	Apr 13, 2012 11:17 AM
13	I do not want to check blackboard, moodle, email, and whatever else for every different class. All classes should use the same site.	Apr 13, 2012 11:07 AM
14	I definitely don't like Blackboard, but I didn't enjoy Moodle either. The idea needs more work.	Apr 8, 2012 10:37 PM
15	The preview window for documents is too small and not resizeable, I did not enjoy this feature.	Apr 8, 2012 4:05 PM

20	BlackBoard is MUCH better and easier to use than Moodle.	Apr 6, 2012 11:11 AM
21	I really HATE Moodle. Blackboard is much more clean cut and easy to operate.	Apr 5, 2012 9:35 PM
22	Those pop-up reminders that show up every time Moodle starts are annoying.	Apr 5, 2012 5:05 PM
23	blackboard works great and is known and understood by almost all the students. why would we switch to something that is so much more difficult to use and navigate when blackboard is just fine?	Mar 29, 2012 2:32 PM
24	Moodle is the single most annoying program to ever work with. When they told us that it was a free program I can clearly see why. It doesn't work the way it is supposed to, and unlike blackboard it is so unorganized. It is extremely frustrating when your classes mandate you use moodle, and you can't turn in your assignments on time because the program doesn't work.	Mar 28, 2012 3:58 PM
25	I think either Moodle needs to be used across the board or we need to stick to Blackboard; having both is very inconvenient and confusing.	Mar 27, 2012 11:21 AM
26	I think Blackboard is better and easier	Mar 25, 2012 10:09 PM
27	Stick with Blackboard!	Mar 25, 2012 9:26 PM
28	The only Moodle feature I somewhat like is the calendar that I can scroll over and see what's due.	Mar 25, 2012 9:19 PM
