

Cats in the Movies

Cats are everywhere in films, especially Disney films. Three famous cats, the Cheshire Cat from "Alice in Wonderland," Lucifer from "Cinderella," and Si and Am from "Lady and the Tramp," all show the negative aspects of cat culture. These cats are mean, vicious, and evil. They do everything they can to make others miserable and cause trouble. If I had a cat, I would not want her to be anything like any of those cats.

Learning how to speak cat has helped me to better understand cat culture and some of the ways cats react differently than dogs. In "Cinderella" Lucifer constantly tries to catch the mice and get everyone in trouble. If Lucifer were a dog, he would not do that. Instead he would ignore the mice since they are not worth all of the effort.
